Peter Marsh, (the driving force behind Trophic Cascade) has always lived on Dharawal Country, East Coast, Australia

Being connected to Country, Peter feels entrusted with the knowledge and responsibility to care for the land, providing a deep sense of identity, purpose and belonging

Trophic Cascade released their first single 'Father's War Cry' in late 2020 and followed up with the second single 'Turnover' in mid-2021

Now in 2022, 'TC' are back with the third single 'BastardFile'

'BastardFile' is a truth-telling story, about Peter's memories and upbringing on Country, along Salt Pan Creek, Peakhurst

Peter enjoys writing music, being a lyricist and story teller by capturing moments in time, through song and visual arts

Collaborating with other creatives, Trophic Cascade continues to grow and evolve! On this new single 'BastardFile', Ivor Rad has again done an amazing job with the musical arrangement

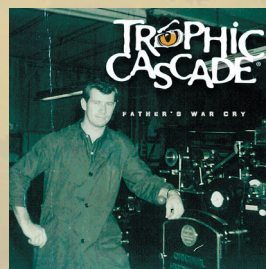

'Having a go while I'm breathing, to deliver some musical messages that we hope will respect the past, thrive in the present and assist in the future'

Special thanks to Ivor Radocaj from St.Rok Studios for collaborating and producing this track. We've created a time capsule that files my ideas, lyrics and memories which is something that I have wanted to do for years! - Peter Marsh
